Field Trips of the Mind

Did you ever want to go on a trip with your children...but it was too far, too expensive or just "out of the question"? No worry...you can go on an imaginary trip. The trip can be as simple as a trip to the Liberty Bell or as complicated as a week on safari...or even outer space. Tie in multi-cultural studies, transportation awareness (and all of the trimmings that come with travel these days), art, literature, food and nutrition/cooking, and writing experiences. Tailor the experience to the age of your children and it will be the best days of your year...guaranteed. Hear about many varied examples and then we will plan your outings together.
